

Essential Tremor is a progressive and highly prevalent neurologic disease that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or entire body, the largest movement disorder in the world, affecting over 130 million, including children. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive and highly prevalent neurologic disease that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or entire body, the largest movement disorder in the world, affecting over 130 million, including children. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive and highly prevalent neurologic disease that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or entire body, the largest movement disorder in the world, affecting over 130 million, including children. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive and highly prevalent neurologic disease that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or entire body, the largest movement disorder in the world, affecting over 130 million, including children. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive and highly prevalent neurologic disease that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or entire body, the largest movement disorder in the world, affecting over 130 million, including children. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive and highly prevalent neurologic disease that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or entire body, the largest movement disorder in the world, affecting over 130 million, including children. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org